

THE INSTITUTE FOR ORTHODOX CHRISTIAN STUDIES, CAMBRIDGE

Formally approved by the Pan-Orthodox Episcopal Assembly for Great Britain and Ireland

To: The Principals and Staff and Students of the Cambridge Theological Federation, and all our supporters and friends.

It is with great pleasure that we announce that on 7 February 2013 the Institute for Orthodox Christian Studies we concluded the purchase of our permanent home at 25-27 High Street Chesterton, Cambridge, CB4 1ND.

We are at present moving our work-stations and library from our rented premises in Wesley to Palamas House, which will involve closure of the IOCS Library from today for approximately a fortnight. There will be some disruption to our working-arrangements, and we ask your indulgence for any inconvenience.

When we are fully settled we expect to celebrate by a service of thanksgiving and a formal procession to take possession. We are aiming for a date in April and will issue general invitations to all our friends. We are especially grateful to those whose generosity has made possible the acquisition of a building that is in every way ideal for our present and future purposes.

Yours sincerely,

Professor David Frost
Principal and Administrator IOCS
